3rd and 4th OCTOBER 2015

FORUM 2015

Croome, Worcestershire

THE WALLED KITCHEN GARDEN IN THE 21ST CENTURY

By kind invitation of Chris and Karen Cronin, their magnificent walled kitchen garden at Croome Court is the venue for our two-day Forum this year and, by kind permission of their neighbours the National Trust, our talks will be held on both days in the Long Gallery of the equally magnificent, 18th century Mansion.

Past themes for our Forums have tended to consist of historical restoration and fidelity to the past. However, the theme for 2015 is 'The Walled Kitchen Garden in the 21st Century'. Speakers this year will discuss modern solutions to the problems posed by 18th and 19th century walled kitchen gardens. Subjects will include up-to-date management, greenhouse restoration and engineering, heating, water supplies, fertility and pest control, modern designs and layouts, and the latest in horticulture.

This is a two-day Forum because, apart from the very 21st century restoration of the Cronin's splendid kitchen garden, participants are also invited to visit Croome's beautiful, historic Capability Brown Mansion and Park.

Please use National Trust car park and enter through the visitor centre. Croome, near High Green, south Worcester, WR8 9DW. Signposted off the B4084 and A38.
